TEACHERS SCARCE.

The scarcity of school teachers is what might be expected. The young ladies and gentlemen who study for years to fit themselves to teach a primary school, and become proficient, are getting exceedingly weary of devoting their time to a profession that has mighty little glory and poor pay. With half the effort they take up book-keeping and stenography, become moderately proficient, starting out to draw a salary of $50 a month, with a chance of a raise as they progress, while they teach in a primary school for $30 to $35 a month, and spend a fourth of their year's salary to keep posted in the new methods of teaching that bob up every year.

Besides all this, the examinations are simply fierce, and how can you expect a young lady of 18 or 20 years to know as much as a Philadelphia lawyer for $25 or $30 a month for seven or eight months in a year and board themselves?

Raise the salary of teachers so they will have a chance to get back a portion of the money they have paid out during the eight or ten years they have been fitting themselves for their work, have a list of questions for examinations that apply to schools and teaching, and not to matters that will never come before the ablest lawyers and judges of the land in the affairs of this country, and you will have all the teachers you want for the country schools.

THE MATURED FAMILY.

In these days when women do not seek to marry, and when men find single blessedness most desirable, says an exchange, the question of how to preserve harmony in the matured family is important. It is a far easier matter to preserve happiness in a growing family which is elastic and buoyant and busy with its own diversions. But with maturity and age each character hardens, the personal tastes and opinions become fixed, and toleration for others is often lacking because each member of the family feels without admitting it that the very existence of the other members limits his or her possibilities. Not only do the members feel this, but it is actually true. As a case in point, one most attractive woman literally and unconsciously lost touch with her friends by surrendering herself to her family. Those who found her most congenial could not find her sisters so, and while year after year, she struggled to retain her friends as well as her family, she could not fail to see the breach widening, when, if she had chosen to live apart from her family, the success she so well deserved would have surely been hers. Her less charming sisters dragged her down, depriving her of the happiness of companionship they could not enjoy.

COVER THE SUBJECTS.

The following concerning one of our former citizens, coming as it does from A. M. C. Russell, county superintendent of the Hernando schools, and who is also editor of The Southern Argus, may be considered a high tribute to the ability of State Superintendent Holloway:

"The Southern Argus acknowledges with pleasure the reception of a full set of questions recently submitted in the examination at Gainesville of applicants for State certificates. We have examined them carefully and find them to be perfectly fair and sufficiently covering the subjects. Superintendent Holloway is conducting his office in an able manner, compelling the praise of opponents as well as friends."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

THOSE CONTRIBUTIONS.

John A. McCall cannot justify the New York Life Insurance Company's contributions to the Republican campaign fund by saying that Judge Parker, when chairman of the Democratic State committee, accepted all the money offered him from whatever source, says The New York World.

Neither can Mr. McCall justify his political use of the policy-holder's money by telling how the Democratic campaign managers dogged his steps in 1904 and made his life weary by soliciting contributions. His testimony is disputed in detail.

Judge Parker says that in 1904, when he was a candidate for President, no money was asked of these insurance companies for the Democratic campaign fund, and it is pretty generally known all over the land that they did not expect it. Although Mr. Roosevelt denied the Republicans receiving any funds from this source, and many innocent voters believed him, it was known at the time of the controversy between Roosevelt and Parker that there was something in it.

SUNSTROKES.

The sensible young woman should marry the man who loves her, and not the one she loves.

In Corea the officials buy their places, the same as they do in civilized America in many instances.

The woman who never sees any good in her husband always gets angry at another woman who can never see any bad in her's.

President McCall, who let the insurance money go without keeping a record of it, is what they called a sound money man in the last National campaign.

Some men have compassion on the opposite sex and marry them, not just because they are rich, but because they dislike to see them become rich old maids.

It is quite evident that something has not been buried deep enough, judging from the odor that permeates the atmosphere as one passes along one of our leading thoroughfares.

An Italian Count has declined a legacy bequeathed by an American woman in Florence. That explains the mysterious cablegram about a "great convulsion of nature" and vindicates Vesuvius.

Chas. Fogle, who stole a watch in New York, and who was tried, the jury failing to agree, was allowed to go free if he would quit New York and go to Chicago. Is Chicago to become New York's Siberia?

An old minstrel man has made the statement that a new joke is a dangerous thing to spring on the stage. He says it may not take. How the mischief most of them can tell is what the people would like to know. It is seldom tried.

DYSPEPSIA

"Having taken your wonderful 'Cascarets' for three months and being entirely cured of stomach catarrh and dyspepsia, I think a word of praise is due to 'Cascarets' for their wonderful composition. I have taken numerous other so-called remedies but without avail, and I find that Cascarets relieves more in a day than all the others I have taken would in a year."
